Shakopee, MN -- Samendra and jockey Dean Butler won the MTA Stallion Auction Laddie Stakes as the betting favorite on Saturday at Canterbury Park, while All Bets Are Off, at 15 to 1, won the MTA Stallion Auction Lassie with rider Derek Bell in the saddle. The co-featured stakes each offered a $25,000 purse and were contested at six and one-half furlongs.

Both winners lead from gate to wire. Samendra fended off a challenge by Dancingwithbigron before pulling away at the eighth-pole to win by one and three-quarters lengths. The 3-year-old colt, owned by Kathy and Deon Kissoon of Prior Lake, MN, returned $3.00 to win. Samendra is trained by Bernell Rhone.

All Bets Are Off, owned by Curtis Sampson of Hector, MN, was unchallenged on the lead in the Lassie. The 3-year-old filly defeated stablemate and 1 to 9 wagering favorite Bert'slittlesister by two and one-half lengths. The Tony Rengstorf trainee returned $32.60.

The Laddie was run in one minute 18 seconds while the final time of the Lassie was one second slower.
